Curiosity makes us go beyond. We always look at the big picture and want to discover and learn more.

Planning, measuring and going into the details is definitely our thing. We always improve everything that we create.

How we work area of work. If you are also passionate about data, you will fit right in!

We test and verify

We are analysts, developers, product managers and testers. We share a desire to experiment, try out new solutions and quickly check what works.

We are located in Gdańsk, but we work remotely and operate globally. We have no plans on returning to the office, so you can work from wherever you want, and we will provide you with tools you need.

Flexible approach

Fixed working hours? That's not us! Work the hours that suit you and maintain your work/life balance.

We socialize!

Remote work does not mean that there is no opportunity for contact and relationship building with the team. We meet in a virtual kitchen, organize online integrations and from time to time we meet offline, in real life.
